SEPTEMBER 8: Arts Council of the Morris Area’s GALLERY at 14 MAPLE opens

On September 8, 2011 from 6-8pm, the Arts Council of the Morris Area will hold an opening reception for its latest juried exhibition entitled Remembrance of Things Past, featuring works by 50 artists who live or work in New Jersey. Curated by Virginia Fabbrini Butera, Ph.D., Director of the Therese A. Mailoney Gallery and Chair of the Art and Music Departments at the College of St. Elizabeth, the exhibit showcases these artists’ unique and creative interpretations of the theme (inspired by Marcel Proust’s novel of the same title). The works utilize an extremely wide variety of media, from pen & ink, stitched muslin, to galvanized wire, bronze, steel and more. Remembrance of Things Past pays homage to the tenth anniversary of 9/11 through art that evokes the power of memory. The 50 works present very distinctive and unique visions which range from the personal to the cosmic, from the sense of loss and tragedy to the humorous and touching. “This is a powerful and very meaningful tribute to events which have touched our lives in profound and moving ways,” said Anne Aronovitch, Executive Director of the Arts Council.

The public is invited to view the exhibit and to meet the artists and the curator at the free opening reception on September 8th from 6-8pm at Gallery at 14 Maple, a distinctive space located on the 3rd floor of the LEED certified “green” building at 14 Maple Avenue in Morristown, NJ.

The exhibit is open to the public Mondays-Thursdays from 10am to 4pm, on Fridays from 10am to 1pm and by appointment, and will remain on display until February 15, 2012. Visit www.morrisarts.org or call (973) 285-5115 for additional information, including the exhibit catalogue which contains details and sale prices for all works.

The Arts Council gratefully acknowledges sponsorship for this exhibit by INVESTORS DAVING BANK with additional support from the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation.

Music and dance filled the Green at Music Without Borders

Initiated as a collaboration between the Arts Council of the Morris Area and the Mayo Performing Arts Center in 2010, Music Without Borders is a series of four free outdoor world music concerts that reflects the diversity of our world and our growing appreciation for the richness of world cultures. Hundreds of people—from children to seniors—attended each of the programs, which were held outdoors on the Mayo Performing Arts Center lawn on June 22, July 6 & 20 and August 3. The ‘Music in Motion’ Dance Party brought the infectious rhythms of Colombian dance music, inspiring spontaneous dancing by the audience. The sax, accordion and percussion trio of Chalgiya brought Balkan music and line dance to the Green; Madhumita Parmar explains the intricacies of classical Indian dance to a young audience; Colombian music provided by Chico Chavez also inspired dancing; Wang Jiaying performs on the zheng.

CIRALDA 2011 Music and Arts Festival

…A large crowd turned out to support the Arts Council of the Morris Area. Top billings went to the New Jersey Symphony, conducted by Gerald Steinacher featuring soprano Heather Johnson and Marco Nistico in a program that included selections from The Barber of Seville, Rodgers and Hammerstein show tunes, Strauss waltzes, patriotic numbers and an excerpt from The Moldau (which the conductor re-titled Hammerstein show tunes, Strauss waltzes, patriotic numbers and an excerpt from The Moldau). It will be followed by a brief outdoor program at the adjacent Vail Mansion reflecting pool where 60 volunteers will be lit to remember the 64 people from Morris County who lost their lives that day. The sax, accordion and percussion trio of Chaijyra attracted a local international dance club which performed and even taught dance steps from Macedonian, Bulgarian, and Greek traditions to other members of the public! The superb Music of China Trio inspired all present with their intricate, haunting performance on the erhu (2 stringed fiddle with snake skin resonator), the yangqin (hammered dulcimer) and zheng (21 stringed zither with movable bridges). Audience members eagerly peppered the musicians with questions about the music and the instruments. The series concluded with an outstanding performance of Northern and Southern Indian music and dance, featuring vocalists, tabla, harmonium, and the classical dancing of Madhumita Parmar (of the Shubanjali school). Young and old alike were fascinated by the lavish costumes, intriguing soundscapes, intricate choreography and artistry of the group. Be sure to “travel the world” with us again next summer on the Green!

Freeholder Proclamation marks County and National Arts and Humanities Month

The Arts Council of the Morris Area will again spearhead a Proclamation from the Board of Chosen Freeholders on behalf of the County’s arts and cultural organizations to designate the entire month of October as Arts and Humanities Month in Morris County. The Freeholder’s Proclamation coordinates with National “Arts and Humanities Month,” a coast-to-coast collective celebration of culture in America. Organized every October by the national organization Americans for the Arts, National Arts and Humanities Month represents the largest annual celebration of the arts and humanities in the nation. From arts center open houses to mayoral proclamations to ban- ners and media coverage, communities across the United States join together to recognize the importance of arts and culture in our daily lives.

On Sept. 26th, 2011, representatives from Morris County’s arts and cultural communities will gather at the Freeholder meeting in support of the proclamation, highlighting the importance of the arts at their own events and performances during the month. Be sure to visit the online cultural calendar at www.morrisarts.org for a listing of the many cultural and arts events in Morris County.
