Creative Placemaking: 2nd Annual Morristown Art Walk on October 6

Join us October 6th from noon - 5:00 pm for the 2nd Annual Morristown Art Walk and experience the work of over 70 participating artists! Artist and organizer Julie Friedman of ArtSpace Studio states, “The September 28th, loud and clear. Morrisians got the good art vibe: people want to see more local art events and artists want to share their passions with the public.”

Katie Dempsey, Director of Arts in Community at Morris Arts, says “This is what Creative Placemaking is all about. The Art Walk with Julie Friedman taking a leadership role, is a great example of artists taking ownership in their own community and creating vibrancy in the downtown. Events that are community based like the Art Walk enrich the local economy by supporting local artists and businesses. This helps to create a more interesting and exciting downtown area”.

Maps will be available at all locations hosting artists and locations will be clearly marked with balloons and signs. For more information, contact Julie Friedman, ArtSpace Studio, 201-819-0371 or juliefriedmanurat.com.

As the curator, Dick Eger, notes, “The three artists whose works were part of the 2010 exhibit, Seeing Space, use their concept of space as a vehicle to direct, express and propel their work into another dimension.”

Margaret Priese, Chair of the Board of Chosen Freeholders on behalf of the County’s arts and cultural organizations to designate the entire downtown area of Morristown as the Creative Placemaking Arts and Humanities Month. Freeholder Proclamation to mark County and National Arts and Humanities Month

Morris Arts will again spearhead a Proclamation from the Board of Chosen Freeholders on behalf of the County’s arts and cultural organizations to designate the entire month of October as Arts & Humanities Month in Morris County. The Freeholder’s Proclamation coordinates with National Arts and Humanities Month, a coast-to-coast collective celebration of culture in America. Organized every October by the national organization Americans for the Arts, National Arts and Humanities Month represents the largest annual celebration of the arts and humanities in the nation. From art centers open houses to mayoral proclamations and to banners and media coverage, communities across the United States join together to recognize the importance of arts and culture in our daily lives.

On September 25, 2013, representatives from Morris County’s arts and cultural communities will gather at the Freeholder meeting in support of the proclamation, highlighting the importance of the arts at their own events and performances during the month. Be sure to visit the online cultural calendar at www.morrisarts.org for a listing of the many cultural and arts events in Morris County.

The Keefauver Arts In Education Grant Award: Netcong Elementary School, Netcong, NJ

Each year Morris Arts selects one school in Morris County to receive the Keefauver Artist Residency Grant. This year’s recipient was Netcong Elementary School in Netcong, New Jersey. A team of teaching artists known as Spiritree were selected to work with second and eighth grade students on a project exploring the elements of the rainforest. Second grade students learned about the various animals, plants and ecosystems and worked with the artists to create plants, flowers, snakes and animals. Students in eighth grade learned how to create sculpture using paper maché and worked on some of the more complex artwork for the installation including large trees, a leopard, and an antelopes. As the work progressed over a ten-day period, students sculpted, painted and worked with paper, cardboard, yarn and paint to construct all the parts of the rainforest. Once completed, the rainforest was assembled in the main school corridor with the help of teaching artists Carol Hendrickson and Marco Giammetti, Netcong art teacher Eileen Cook and other volunteers. For the culminating event and presentation to the community, second graders acted as rainforest guides, sharing their knowledge about the elements of the rainforest with visitors and parents. This Morris Arts Artist Residency threw a spotlight on the arts at the time when the district was considering cutting some art classes. At the June Board of Education meeting, a large turnout by the community in support of the arts averted those program cuts.

GIRALDA Music and Arts Festival turned 30 in 2013!

This year’s anniversary event also marked the retirement of former Board member and GIRALDA Chair David Clair who, with his wife Dorothy, used their exceptional administrative and logistical skills, time, energy and financial support to insure the smooth running of this event for the last 25 years!
